

Building Connections with Farmers in Oued Souhil

Description

?? In Oued Souhil, Nabeul, our team has been actively engaging with the farming community to better understand their perspectives on sustainable agriculture and water management. This outreach, part of the PRIMA-SAFE project, is more than just data collection—it’s an opportunity to connect with local farmers, learn from their experiences, and discuss the challenges they face regarding water scarcity and soil health.

Through open dialogues, we explored their knowledge on wastewater reuse and soil management, understanding both their practices and concerns. These conversations help bridge the gap between scientific research and everyday farming realities, bringing valuable insights that inform our project’s approach. By working hand in hand with the local community, we’re creating a shared path toward agricultural practices that are both sustainable and resilient.
